REACHING THOSE

Myanmar Earthquake Response
June 2025

BACKGROUND

Three months have passed since the devastating 7.7 magnitude earthquake struck central Myanmar on 28 March 2025, yet humanitarian conditions remain critical. Early rains have further deteriorated the living situation for many children and families still residing in makeshift shelters, struggling to rebuild their lives. Access to clean water, sanitation, healthcare, and protection services, particularly for those displaced in Mandalay and Sagaing, remains dire.

The earthquake compounds an already dire humanitarian situation where nearly 20 million people already needed humanitarian assistance across the country due to prolonged conflict, recurring natural disasters and economic collapse.

CHALLENGES AND NEEDS

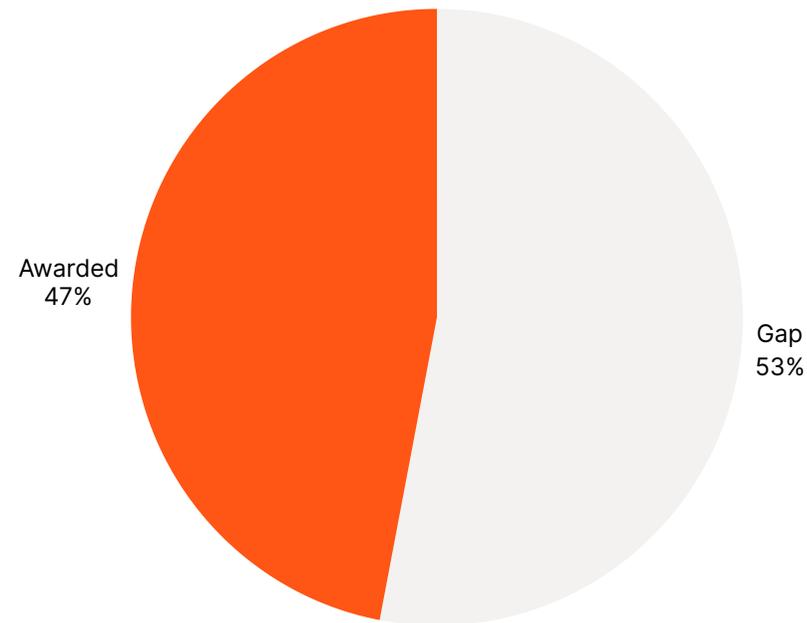

Ensuring ongoing support is fundamental to achieving sustainable recovery.

- Three months into the crisis, thousands of children and their families in Mandalay and Sagaing remain displaced. Many continue to live in overcrowded, insecure shelters lacking adequate protection. With the monsoon season arriving, these conditions pose increasing risks, highlighting the urgent need for improved shelter support.
- Access to clean water, sanitation, healthcare, and protection services, particularly for those displaced by the earthquake, remains dire.
- The long-term psychological impact of displacement, loss, and uncertainty requires sustained mental health and psychosocial support (MHPSS) services.
- Progress made in dry season recovery can be undone by monsoon-related events, creating a cycle of damage and rebuilding.

FUNDING GAP AND REQUIREMENT

Sustaining financial support is essential for long-term recovery.

WVIM aims to support 500,000 people, including 172,000 children with a total budget of USD 21 million, addressing both immediate relief needs and long-term recovery efforts.
